DEFEND WILSON

Germans Cry 'Treason' When Alphonse Koelble Calls the President 'Un-American.'

REPRIMAND BY LOBECK

Mass Meeting at Poli's Adopts Resolution Calling for Embargo on War Munitions.

German sympathizers, nearly 1,000 strong, assembled at Poli's Theater last night and heard accusations of violation of neutrality by the United States and of pro-British sentiments harbored by President Wilson, which were made by speakers brought together to discuss a bill in the House forbidding exportation of arms and armament.

One speaker Alphonse Koelble, of New York, grew so violent in his denunciation of President Wilson as an "un-American president, lacking red blood," and of the entire administration as maintaining neutrality in word but not in fact, that murand declared that he would not "stand on the platform and hear such talk on the platform and hear such talk against the President of the United States." Lobeck was applauded. After Canada. What do you think we'd feed the meeting, feeling was expressed by the leaders of the meting against Mr Koeble's flery indictment of the nation's Chief Executive.

The meeting was called in the interest of Representative Vollmer's bill in the House placing an embargo on the exportation of all munitions of the exportation of all munitions war. Representative Vollmer alleged that the neutrality requested of the American people by President Wilson was being maintained as a veil over favoritism for Great Birtain.

"President Wilson's proclamation a noble thought," said Mr. Vollmer, "and caused universal applause. Then he had us pray for peace throughout the country on October 4. While the country prayed its hands were being filled with blood money far worse than the thirty pieces of silver which Judas received for the betrayal of Christ. The prayer was mere lip service. On October 5, we went back to the work of selling cannon and rifles to the nations at war and pocket-ing the profits received from furnishing our fellowmen with instruments with which to kill each other.

The theological Hell is a red-hot furnace, manned with fireproof devils, and containing practically all of the human family who ever lived, except the comparatively few saints. This Hell is the common property of Catholics and Protestants, but the speaker wants none of it. He pronounced it an absurdity, wholly the pronounced it an absurdity, wholly to not rearly all his audience.

St. Peter explains that the words were a prophecy relating to Christ's resurrection—that God raised Jesus from the dead on the third day. There is not a shred of authority anywhere for the absurd statement sometimes made by cornered clergymen, that "Paradize is absurd statement sometimes made by cornered clergymen, that "Paradize is on one side of the creek and Hades on the other." The Bible tells of a Paradise, but it is future. It tells of a Hades, the state of the dead, but it is present, and is to be destroyed in the future. The destruction of Sheol, Hades, the grave, by resurrection, will progress during the thousand years of Christ's Reign.
